The EU-GDPR has only been in force for one year. With its complex set of rules, the GDPR poses big challenges to numerous companies. During the past year the robustness of the GDPR has been put to the test. In the framework of our congress "#GDPR + 1" (conference languages: DE, EN, FR) we want to use the opportunity to take stock retrospectively of what has been achieved.

Which aspects of the GDPR are still in need of reform? What are the data protection management strategies which have proven to work? How has the implementation of the GDPR been realized at a technical level? To what extent do the data protection requirements differ depending on the company's size and structure?

For this purpose we have chosen an innovative conference format combining the advantages of the classic conference model, with keynote lectures given by renowned speakers and subsequent discussion, with those of an interactive workshop session.

PARTICIPATING IN THE EUROPEAN DATA PROTECTION CONGRESS "#GDPR +1" WILL ENABLE YOU TO:

- ✓ share best practices in data protection as well as your experiences with the GDPR with other participants.
- ✓ discuss the sustainability of the GDPR
- ✓ develop, together with other participants and representatives of the supervisory authorities, constructive solutions
- ✓ take advantage of an ideal platform for cross-border and cross-sector networking
- ✓ take part in workshops given by atene KOM, Merck, T-Systems Multimedia Solutions, Meeco, Lombard International Assurance, Anonos BigPrivacy, Vindler, DURY Compliance & Consulting GmbH
- ✓ receive a copy of the handbook "Data Protection in Luxembourg" edited by DURY Compliance & Consulting GmbH (German, French or English version)

MEET

- ✓ Dr. Dr. h. c. mult. Viviane Reding, Vice President Emeritus of the European Commission
- ✓ Tine A. Larsen, President of the National Commission for Data Protection Grand-Duchy of Luxembourg (CNPD)
- ✓ Reiner Egeler, GDPR Leader DACH, IBM
- ✓ Gerry Rankin, Global Head of Privacy Risk Management, Anonos BigPrivacy
- ✓ Executive directors and board members, consultants, quality and data protection officers, lawyers, risk managers, IT and IT security experts, representatives from the areas of supply chain management, controlling, communication and human resource management.
